BLOG

I want to leave Jamaica. I have very different values than most members of my family. Religion is very important to them and they go to church every week. They think I should marry my boyfriend and start a family. They are so old-fashioned! A lot of people here have problems, and some even take drugs. My boyfriend has family in the USA so maybe we will go there together. I think love and friendship are very important if you want to be happy.

After the accident a young worker was taken to the police station. The man lives in the Umlazi Township and works in construction. He told the police that the car had been very fast and out of control. The driver of the car was hurt. She and another victim of the accident, a student from Redhill Private School, were taken to hospital. Everyone was lucky because the accident didn't cause any deaths. However, the driver of the car feels awful because the accident was her fault. She can't sleep well and has nightmares.

The system of apartheid separated black and white people. In 1994 Nelson Mandela became the first president and apartheid ended. Some black people are disadvantaged. They are unskilled and don't have jobs. They are poor and live in townships. Rich people are privileged. They are well-educated and have good jobs. Some of them live in gated communities and they can send their children to private schools.
